

We inform the individuals about the purposes we use their personal data for and we use it only for these purposes

- You must be transparent, i.e. clear, open and honest with people from the start about why and how you handle their personal data. This information is typically communicated in a privacy notice.