

We keep the personal data correct and current

- You should take all reasonable steps to ensure the personal data you handle is correct.
- You may need to keep the personal data updated, although this will depend on what you are using it for.
- If you discover that personal data is incorrect or misleading, you must take reasonable steps to correct or erase it as soon as possible.
- You must consider any challenges individuals make regarding the accuracy of their personal data.